Haley posts bond; court date set

by GLORIA DAVIS

According to the Palm Beach County Circuit Court Clerk's office in Florida, William Haley, 41, Antioch, paid approximately 15 percent of a $50,000 bond and was released, after turning himself into Palm Beach County authorities on Wednesday, Feb. 3.

Court disposition on the charge of trafficking in marijuana, brought against Haley when a governor's warrant out of the state of Florida was first issued last fall, has been set for 9:30 a.m., March 1, in the Palm Beach County felony court of Judge Edward Rodgers.

Haley had failed to appear in Lake County Circuit Court on Tuesday, Feb. 2, after being released on a $5,000 bond in connection with the same warrant. The hearing in Lake County was for the purpose of having Palm Beach County Sheriff's Dept. narcotics agent Robert Boxold identify Haley for extradition to Florida.

Boxold is working on the case involving the confiscation of a plane owned by William Zeigler, Round Lake, at an airport in West Palm Beach, Fla. last spring. The plane was carrying $476,600 worth of marijuana.

Reportedly the two men arrested when the plane was confiscated, later convicted and released on probation, Robert Hoffman, 33, Lake Villa and Woodrow Webster Wilson, 28, Colorado, claimed that they had flown the plane full of contraband from Columbia to West Palm Beach after being promised $40,000 by Haley, who said he was Zeigler's pilot.

Boxhold said that his department was working with the Federal Drug Administration on the case.

Although U. S. Customs officials in Ft. Meyers, Fla., 100 miles from West Palm Beach, have not positively identified the plane confiscated on Sunday, Jan. 31, at an airport in Ft. Meyers, as belonging to Zeigler, Capt. Gary Grosser of the Ft. Meyers airport police, said that it was the same plane that had been under surveillance.

According to Grosser, his department assisted customs officials who initiated the search of the plane reportedly belonging to Zeigler.

"Customs impounded the plane because of the marijuana residue aboard and we took over when guns were found on the plane, arresting Frank Marotta, 35, Lindenhurst, and Allan Bell Kennedy, 47, Antioch, charging them carrying concealed weapons."

Both Kennedy and Marotta were released when each posted $5,000 bail.

Zeigler, who denied any knowledge of his plane being used for drug transportation last spring, is reportedly out of the country and unavailable for comment on last week's confiscation.

Run Carrying jogging suits

by GLORIA DAVIS

The sight of a jogger on the run, carrying four jogging suits, might have been seen by Main St. shoppers on Thursday, Feb. 4, at 10 a.m., outside of B J's Sport Center.

Those were no joggers, those were two thieves! According to Lt. Tom Fisher of the Antioch Police Dept., two juveniles kept the clerk in B J's busy while someone else entered the store and lit-out with four jogging suits valued at $400.

Bill Patterson, the store's owner, grabbed the juveniles who later implicated their cohorts.

Antioch contacted the Fox Lake Police Dept. who went to a residence there and found the men implicated by the 14 and 15 year olds.

Arrested in Fox Lake were James G. Bokan, 17, and Milton Hansen, 18, both of Ingleside.

The juveniles were also from Ingleside. All four were charged with theft and were released on bond pending a Feb. 18 hearing in Lake County Circuit Court.

VIP negotiations in final stages

Negotiations for a second new industry to be located on the southeast end of Antioch, off of Rte. 173, on a one acre site in the RAM Industrial Park, north of the Modern Home Products building, now in-construction, are close to completion, reports Mike Baxter, vice president of Vehicle Improvement Products (VIP).

Museum future is topic of Feb. 9 meeting

According to Bill Brook, Betty Lou Williams and Jim Fields, spearheaders of the project for renovating the old Antioch Grade School on Main St. into an area historical museum, many letters have been sent to the local community organizations and residents who have indicated interest in the project, inviting them to an important meeting on the subject.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m., on Tuesday, Feb. 9, in the Ernest Brooks Memorial Room at the State Bank of Antioch.

A panel made up of people who have much historical museum experience will give explanations, answer questions and accept input from any resident.

Robert O. Dunne, a member of the Libertyville Bicentennial Commission, past president and present board and committee member of the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society and present member of the Illinois State Historical Society, will be on the panel.

Other panel members will be Marie Janik, also a past president and member of the board of directors of the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society and Jean Dresser that historical society's program chairman.

Forest preserve gets Gander Mt. check

At a recent meeting in Chicago, Lake County Forest Preserve District President Donald Strenger received a $563,600 check from Illinois Dept. of Conservation Director Dr. David Kenney for the purchase of Gander Mountain, near Antioch.

According to Strenger, "the 260 acre site is one of the 10 original forest preserve sites chosen by the District in 1959." Strenger described Gander Mountain as the highest point in Lake County, "it offers a view of two states and four counties, and has natural features found nowhere else in the area."

While its primary assets are conservation and wildlife habitat, Strenger also noted that the many steep slopes on the site also provide potential for an excellent winter sports area and the site enjoys frontage on the Fox River for water-based recreation.

STAMP CLUB

Recklessness homicide Hartog, Lackie await trial

Two men, who were involved in the traffic deaths of three people in the village of Antioch in 1981, are awaiting their trials.

Kenneth Hartog, 20, Trevor, who plead not guilty to a charge of reckless homicide in the death of Antioch High School teacher, Anna Helene Kugler, is set for a pre-trial hearing on Thursday, Feb. 11 and his trial date has been set for Monday, Feb. 22.

Hartog was driving the truck that struck and killed Kugler as she jogged in the dark on North Ave., early one morning last fall.

Hartog reportedly told Antioch Police that he had been smoking marijuana and drinking in the hours preceding the accident.

Having failed to pass a breathalyzer test after the accident, Hartog has also been charged with driving while intoxicated.

Rodney C. Lackie, 19, the Great Lakes sailor that was driving the car that struck another vehicle at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83, killing Ann Brierly, Glencoe and Lilach Shazar, 17, Wilmette, on June 21, will have his pretrial in Lake County Court on March 25. His trial date is set for April 15.

Lackie has been charged on three counts in each death: driving under the influence of alcohol, failure to yield the right of way and driving too fast for conditions.

Locals elected to AAA

Timothy and Maria Donovan and RS and Patricia Ragan, all of Antioch, have been elected to membership in the American Angus Assn., reported Dick Spader, executive vice president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Mo.

The American Angus Assn., with some 38,000 active life and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 10 million registered Angus.

The association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Assn. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

Sixty-five or over? Make plans now to attend Senior Citizens Center's Valentine Party on Feb. 12. For information contact Noreen Thomas at (312) 395-7120. It's also a good time to bring up questions and get the information on their spring fund-raiser, worthwhile cause.

HAVE SONS IN Scouting? Contact their Scout leaders and find out what you can do to make their Blue and Gold Dinner a big success! The dinner will be held Feb. 21, at 2 p.m., at the Antioch High School. The boys are working hard with their leaders and your participation will give them the recognition from you they need to make it all worthwhile. The cost is $1.75 per person. Ages five and under are free.

NEVER BE AFRAID to seek help if you need it especially if it is so readily available as with the case of the Lake County Crisis Center for Battered Women and/or Children.

If a problem arises, free counseling is available and if need be from there, they do have several safe homes right here in Lake County.

That phone number even, just for information, is (312) 249-4450. Lets not take out our cabin fever on the ones we love. (Keep them in mind for a fund-raising project.)

WHAT IS A Jaycee? Some of you may already know, but for those like myself who weren't quite sure I found out for you. (It was my pleasure.) They are a group of women ages 18-35 dedicated to community and humanitarian oriented-type activities, they are also the sister chapter of the Jaycees.

Their local meetings are held the first Monday of the month, at the State Bank of Antioch, at 8 p.m. and they are also a national organization.

The gals I meet were all very warm and friendly and welcome new members. Right now it's a very small group, but why not contact either Barb Spillner, president at (312) 395-6047 or Ginetta Salonen (did I spell it right?) at (312) 395-2093 and join them for a meeting.

Once you see how much fun they have I'm sure in no time at all their group will be one of the largest in the area. Keep up the good work ladies! Hope your bowling for Autism passed last year's goal. This week is U.S. Jaycee Week, so give a call to Barb or Ginetta.

CHRISTIAN entertainment is open to the public in an evening of live music put on by the Waukegan Christian School Choir on Feb. 28 at 7 p.m., at the Antioch Baptist Church, 554 Parkway, just north off North Ave.

People demand change in landfill groups

As often happens in the village of Antioch, a particularly loud voice of the people has again been successful in changing the minds of the mayor and the village board.

The latest people's mandate occurred when a standing-room-only crowd of residents attended the village board meeting on Monday, Feb. 1, many loudly demanding that the manager of the present HOD landfill Robert Loutsch be removed from the committee appointed by the Mayor Ray Toft to consider the condition of the present landfill site and to investigate the proposal of another 70 acre landfill's annexation to the village.

The irate residents, lead by dissident board member, Claudette Skvarce, who dropped off the committee because of Loutsch's appointment, were not convinced by the mayor's and Trustee Bill Seemann's explanation that Loutsch could give the committee valuable landfill information.

Many attending greeted Toft's concession "to make you people happy," with a round of applause.

Toft asked for a nomination for Loutsch's replacement and received the name of Dr. Lynn Anderson, an Antioch resident and an organic chemist. It took the board 10 minutes of deliberation before they appointed Anderson.

Then Trustee Rod White, who had been appointed to the committee in Skvarce's place, told the mayor that he would be unable to attend the committee's open meetings held at the village hall at 10 a.m., every Saturday.

Terry Eckhart, who lives in the landfill's area was then appointed by Toft. According to the committee's chairman, Al Little, serious consideration has been given to the hiring of an independent consultant to advise the village on the landfill. Waste Management Inc., the company that has proposed the landfill's annexation to the village, has reportedly reluctantly agreed to pay the consultant's fees.

Edgar Allen Poe was expelled from West Point in 1831.

REPLACING TEETH WITH A REMOVABLE BRIDGE

Teeth which are lost almost always should be replaced. Often the best way is with a fixed bridge, which is permanently cemented in the mouth.

Sometimes, however, there are technical problems which prevent the use of a fixed bridge. In that case, the teeth can be replaced with a removable bridge (also called a partial denture).

A removable bridge consists of artificial teeth set on a base. Frequently there is a connector between the artificial teeth on either side of the mouth. The bridge is usually held in place with metal clips which snap around the remaining natural teeth.

Most dentists prefer to have patients remove the bridge at night, to prevent debris from being held against the teeth and gums during sleep. Your specific case may be different, though, so ask your dentist for more specific instructions.

Dr. Sven will be happy to answer individual questions about dental problems. Address personal inquiries to his office.

Carole Reports

Carole talks heart to heart

by CAROLE RISK

As proclaimed by the National Heart Assn., February is heart month, not just the candy and flowers type of hearts, but your heart. The association hopes to increase your awareness of several important health points in order for you to stay healthy: good nutrition, exercise, restful sleep, how to handle stress, diabetes, high cholesterol, high blood pressure, being overweight and of course smoking.

Remember that the most effective method of staying in good health is not just annual physical examination, but a healthy lifestyle.

The Antioch Township Library and St. Therese Trauma Center both offer free high blood pressure screenings, just call either location for the times these free services are available.

The National Heart Assn. campaigns have increased public knowledge of the dangers that lead to heart disease.

Their efforts, joined by modern medicine have reduced heart fatalities considerably.

In conversations with younger women the following subject comes up often.

To be a working woman or not to be, that is not an option today for many young women. Frequently young couples beginning their lives together don't have a choice, they need her paycheck just to afford essentials.

Women who would like to start their families while they are young are looking down a long road of working at two jobs, homemaking and outside work before they can afford to become housewives and mothers.

Adding to younger women's discontent is the fact that no matter what government regulations have been enacted to equalize wages working women are not being compensated for the value of their skills on the basis of the worth of those skills.

For example, the average secretary in Lake County is making $12-$13,000 per year; yet she is expected to type, take shorthand, organize the office and make her boss look good.

Then there is the average salesclerk. She is making approximately $18,000 per year, but she has to dress like she is making $30,000 a year, or how about nurses, the money isn't bad, in Lake County.

A nurse averages approximately $16,000 per year, but ouch, the hours she has to work and the stress on her job is unbelievable.

It is ironic that the generation of women who were told to burn their bras and throw away those aprons, have produced a generation of daughters who would like to have the opportunity that their mothers had of being a full-time homemaker and mother.

Letter To Editor

VOLUNTEERS AVERT DISASTER

Editor:

I am writing this short note to express my thanks to the men of the Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept. for their virtually instant response and courageous actions when they answered a fire call on Feb. 2, at Gaa Oil Co.

This was not an ordinary fire call. What was a flame was a loaded gas truck. Completely disregarding their personal safety, the firemen were all around the flaming gas truck to the extent of putting a ladder against the truck and extinguishing the fire from atop the truck.

In my opinion, the expertise and bravery with which they handled a possible catastrophic situation should convey to the people of the fire district that we are indeed under capable and caring protection.

I would be remiss not to express my thanks to the entire emergency procedure thanks to the dispatching who took the call, the Antioch Police Dept. and the Lake County Sheriff's Police, and the Antioch Fire Dept., a disaster was averted that morning.

PM&amp;L's 'Life' opens Saturday, Feb. 13

Brian Clark's timely and moving play, "Whose Life Is It Anyway?" is set to open this weekend at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main Street in Antioch.

The opening performance will take place this Saturday night, Feb. 13. Later evening presentations are scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 19, 20, 26 and 27. Curtain time for all of the evening shows is 8:30 p.m.

There will be a matinee performance starting at 2:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon, Feb. 21. PM&L's Sunday matinees have been much appreciated by the area's theatergoers, especially those who have found it difficult or inconvenient to see plays on Friday and Saturday nights.

To see the Sunday matinee, or any of the evening performances, be sure to call (312) 395-3055 now for reservations, if you have not already made them. Remember to check in at the PM&L box office no later than 8:15 p.m. on the night, or 2:15 p.m. on the afternoon, the show is to be seen.

Some critics have regarded "Whose Life Is

It Anyway?" as a comedy. The play nevertheless raises the controversial and tantalizing question of the propriety of "pulling the plug" on an incurably and severely incapacitated hospital patient.

The timeliness of this issue in our society today, no doubt explains, at least partially, the popularity the play has enjoyed in earlier stage productions, one featuring Mary Tyler Moore, and for the current movie version starring Richard Dreyfuss.

Lou Jones of Round Lake directs the PM&L production of "Whose Life Is It Anyway?" Philip Jaeger of Zion is featured in the central role.

Others in the PM&L cast include Ginny Schaufel of Paddock Lake; Donna O'Donnell, Lake Villa; from Antioch, Tom Hausman, Nancy Balmes, Peter Thelen, David Carlson, Bruce Stamm, Larry Bersie and George Blanksten; Priscilla Gwin, Waukegan; and Frank Greenwood and Sid Groner from Round Lake.

Theatergoers cannot afford to miss this controversial and timely show.

Stage Review

Fiddler good theater, lacks old greatness

by GLORIA DAVIS

If you have never seen any of the award winning performances of "Fiddler On The Roof," be sure and see one of the present most enjoyable ones now playing at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre.

If you are a "Fiddler" veteran and would love to hear Tevye sing "If I Were A Rich Man," or hear the strains of "Sunrise Sunset" encased inside of a good musical show, offered by one of the nicest theaters in the area, send for tickets immediately.

The current production of "Fiddler On The Roof," being shown at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre, brings much well-known, beautiful music to the ears, and many smiles and laughs to the lips, of those in attendance.

"Fiddler" is one of those classic almost fool-proof vehicles, that in the hands of competent performers, can't miss entertaining its audience.

Marriott's production certainly does this. The publicity releases claim efforts to come up with a "new Fiddler," a fresh perspective without betrayal of the work's original intention.

In the transposition, a little of the greatness, much of the memorableness and some of the old-country traditionalism, that so marked the original production, is lost.

The intimacy of the theater-in-the-round concept is assuredly partially responsible for part of this and the lack of heavy ethnic portrayals by the actors, making them more identifiable with the original characters' modern-day descendants, also contributes to the change in the final result, though most of the ingredients are the same.

Jerry Jarrett, whose impressive long list of theatrical credits includes playing the part of Tevye on Broadway, is an elfin, lighter character, than was seen originally, one that often sparkles and always commands the stage he's on.

I have no argument with this interpretation but a lot of the pathos and much of the super-star quality is missing. Jarrett's Tevye would be as out of place in Czarist Russia as the original Tevye would be at a resort in the Catskills.

This Jewish peasant crosses the bridge between traditionalism and the "new ways," much more quickly and painlessly, but he probably will make you laugh louder. There are times during the second act where his play to the audience is reminiscent of many-a-night club comedian.

Laurel Cronin plays an updated Golde who might be coping with her problems in the Bronx.

I did enjoy her performance, but again it's a different Golde, much less harassed, less ethnic and maybe more likeable.

The same goes for the rest of a most professional cast, with the six actresses and actors playing the roles of the three romantic couples refreshingly and with much Americanization.

Kenned McIver's Tzeitel; Ann O'Donnell's, Hodel and Dee Amerio Sudik's, Chava, were all very believable, as were their romantic counterparts, with David Cesarini playing a strong Perchik.

Helen Ackerman handles the plumb role of Yente capably. Much staging credit goes to Director David Bell for the way that a cast of 20 moves so well in the small in-the-round area allowed.

As usual Kevin Sites musical direction is great and Jeff Lewis' pit orchestra is superb.

Although the entire production might not call for the standing ovations that were screamed for when the show first premiered, I promise you will leave with a smile on your face, humming "Matchmaker."

Trust company offers self-directed IRA's

Antioch Trust Co. has announced the establishment of a new type of individual retirement account which would enable individuals to self-direct their investments.

According to Paul Pavelski, president of Antioch Trust, the program is directed toward individuals who do not want to lock up their investments in a fixed-rate fixed-term investment.

Through this program individuals have a choice of several money market funds, including one which invests exclusively in short-term U.S. Treasury obligations.

Other appropriate investments would include a common stock fund as well as individuals stocks or bonds.

Pavelski stated that this program is open, not only to individuals, but also to corporations who wish to provide an employee incentive by offering a company-sponsored individual retirement account.

An additional advantage to this type of an arrangement is that there is no minimum contribution.

For more information, please call Antioch Trust Co. at (312) 395-8500.

Sequoits down Patriots

In a heated battle for first place in the freshmen conference standings, Antioch's Sequoits downed Stevenson 53-45 on Jan. 30.

Both teams entered the game undefeated in conference play. The victory pushes Antioch's record to 7-0 and 10-4, overall. The Sequoits also have a modest seven game winning streak.

Antioch took the lead early and led throughout the game. Excellent balanced scoring, strong rebounding and few mistakes allowed the Sequoits to build a lead as high as 16 points.

Jeff Johnson led in scoring with 14 points and in rebounds with 10. Joe Klein scored 13 points, Chris Zeien, nine, Dave Hart, eight and Bill Kaht, seven. Hart grabbed nine rebounds as the Sequoits out rebounded Stevenson 31-21.

Coach Norm Hahn praised the entire squad on its efforts and particularly for only 12 turnovers.

"Kaht did a great job as the point man. Everybody shot well (57 percent) rebounded well and hustled. You can't ask for more."

Sequoits split; brace for Warren, Wauconda

The Antioch Sequoit basketball team will face Wauconda and Warren in home and away NWSC clashes Thursday and Friday nights.

Last weekend, the Sequoits were edged by Round Lake 52-51, but came back to beat Grayslake at Grayslake, 57-53.

In the Round Lake thriller, the final score was an indication of how the game went all night long with the scoring going back and forth for four quarters until Round Lake finally opened up a five point lead with about two minutes left.

Mike Gofron led the Sequoits with 15 points and Bob Gatti added 13 in the losing cause.

Saturday night, Gofron totaled 18 and Gatti 16 in the Antioch win over Grayslake. Steve Eckhart, in his first start of the season, added 10 points.

Coach Roger Andrews

cited the fine defensive play of both Steve Sheedlo and Gofron in both games.

"We're going to have to rely on our strong defense to control the ball game," said Andrews of this weekend's games, "and hope that our offense can pick up a little bit."

"Our defense has been solid and stable the last 12 to 15 games, while our offense has not been very explosive. That's something we'll work on this week," said Andrews.

Sequoit soph wrestlers capture NWSC title

The wrestling sophomores of Antioch High School finished their season this weekend with an easy victory over the Patriots of Stevenson, 52-14.

The Sequoits finished 6-1 in conference, losing only to Round Lake in the first match of the year. Grant finished 6-1 also, however they were beaten by Antioch, so Antioch claims the title.

A big thanks from the Antioch wrestling coach goes out to the following: Jim Wais, 98; Don Rassmussen, 98; Rory Hoehne, 105; Chuck Hamlin, 112; Keith Neize, 119; Mike Papp, 119; Don Ball, 119; Rich Carl, 119; Ray Traves, 126; Dave Wright, 126; Dave Sherrick, 132; Dave Maire, 132; Tom

"None of the banks seemed interested, I did have some offers for Industrial Bonds in the million dollar category but we just couldn't justify that expenditure," he said.

With final approval expected in the very near future, construction starts will be "immediately."

VIP, based in Chicago and now leasing one location in Antioch and another in Channel Lake, deals in accessories and components of heavy duty trucks and recreational vehicles, specializing in parts for large motor homes. They presently employ seven people in the local area and expect to employ a minimum of 15 people at the new location.

Those employed will include office staff, manufacturing personnel, customer order packaging help and a light engineering and designing staff.

Sue believes tooth fairy

by DONNA DeFOSSE

Right here in Antioch we have our own Sue Lamar with a story much like that in the fairy tale, a dream come true!

How many times, as a consumer, have we all thought about writing to a company about a product, likes, dislikes, or just an idea but never gotten around to actually doing it?

Well, here is the story about a gal who much like the rest of us felt they would never even read it, but went ahead and wrote it just the same.

Sue had purchased some Topol Tooth Polish and found that it worked for her, so she wrote the company and let them know. Writing the letter made Sue feel good, who never thinking it would go any further, went on with life as usual.

Then came a phone call a couple of weeks later from a distributor of the product asking Sue for a picture of herself for their files.

The gentleman told Sue they liked to keep photos of consumers just for records, so Sue said she would see what she could do.

Sue didn't have a photo of herself and when she asked the people where she worked (OSCO's of Round Lake) if they would take one of her they did and she mailed it.

The next phone call came from New York asking Sue if she could come to New York, all expenses paid, including the babysitter she would need for her four children!

They said it was for a survey, which they prefer to do in person. After a brief discussion with hubby, Gary, it was on to New York!

As with all successes come some problems. Sue had reservations for a Tuesday evening flight, but a phone call changed it after all arrangements were made, because of fog.

Her heart sank and now plans had to be changed so she could leave the next day. (Sue was starting to chicken out.) Her new flight was made for 10 a.m.

They all made it to the airport for Mom's take-off and after waiting in line, the gal at O'Hare confirmed Sue's reservation and proceeded to ask how she was planning on paying for the ticket!

Sue went into shock, she didn't know what to do, so she called one of the New York phone numbers receiving no answer at the one.

By this time the tears were no longer held back. She tried the next number and they put her on hold (she had four more minutes to board the plane!) Finally someone in charge decided to try and clear things up.

The mix-up was with American Airlines when New York changed flights from Tuesday to Wednesday morning they failed to mention that the ticket was indeed pre-paid. Finally at the very last moment all was okayed. She kissed everyone good-bye and away she went.

Now after spending most of her time on the plane crying from the combination of excitement, confusion and never being away from her family, she was in New York, a place she had always wanted to see.

The cabbie brought her to the address, but waited for Sue to make sure it was the right place since it was not one of New York's finest neighborhoods.

It was the place, so she waved the cabbie on and inside she went for her survey. The gal in make-up was very sweet to Sue and could tell she had been crying. She touched up her make-up.

The taping of the interview took about 25 minutes and when it was over they gave Sue $100 and told her to enjoy the city, so she did!

Some of the places Sue visited were Central Park, 42nd St., Broadway, Fifth Ave., etc.

Now, back to Antioch and her family.

Once again a few weeks passed and the phone rang. It was New York. They decided to use Sue Lamar's tape for their nation wide commercial for Topol Tooth Polish!

So remember, if you ever feel like writing a letter to a company about their product it could well be worth the price of the stamp. I'll just bet that hubby Gary and Kevin, 8, Kenny, 5, Karen, 4 and Kathy, 2, would even have helped mom mail it!

Congratulations Sue Lamar, we will be watching!

I asked Sue exactly what the trip really cost her and she said, that it was just the price of the new blouse she had bought for herself at the Globe here in town.

Women to learn about stained glass

The Antioch Woman's Club met on Feb. 1, in the Community Room of the State Bank of Antioch.

David Waud of Underwater Productions gave a most interesting slide program called "Something Fishy" of the coral reefs off the coast of Venezuela. The colors and different species of fish were fantastic.

The hostesses for the day were Jean Benes, Betty Mentone, Lorraine Santi, Eurh White, LuGene Nissen, Florence Ruck, Ann Connors, Zaida Vos, Esther Jacobson and Dorothy Teister.

The next meeting will be Feb. 15 in the community room, of the State Bank of Antioch, at 1 p.m. A board meeting will be held at noon prior to the general meeting.

The program should be very interesting. Keith Houser will show how to construct stain glass and will display some of his pieces of stained glass.

21 students state scholars

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission has announced its winners in the Illinois State Scholar Program.

Jane Abramson, guidance department chairman at Antioch Community High School, announced that Antioch seniors named Illinois State Scholars are: Henry Apostol, Robert Barnes, Dean Berkiel, Linda Bolt, Susan Butler, James DeZetter, Sheri Frydrychowicz, Robert Gatti, Jill Harland, Angela Kelley, Roger Knowlton, Maureen McDevitt, Robin McCarley, David Miller, Pamela Moog, Michelle Morris, Theresa Parker, Stephen Sheedlo, Robert Thain, Edward Wells and Janice Wolf.

To be eligible for the state scholar program, students must take the ACT or SAT tests as juniors and have their scores sent to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission. Those seniors with the highest scores and corresponding rank in class are then named state scholars.

The state scholar program is an honorary program. The Illinois State Scholarship Commission also operates a separate program, the monetary award program, which awards tuition money based on financial need.

Approximately 10,000 Illinois seniors were named as Illinois State Scholars out of 38,000 applying.

Future leaders

Dana, 'Friend's friend'

by GLORIA DAVIS

The name of the youngster that was chosen for the first profile in the new series on the area's Future Leaders is one whose name cropped up on the bulk of the lists made up by teachers at the Antioch Upper Grade School when candidates were asked for.

Although Dana Ward, eighth grade, is a top scholar, having made the high honor roll this last semester, the main reason she was chosen was because she is "a friend's friend," said Principal William Herbst.

"With many junior high students prone towards cruelty towards their fellow students, Dana's pleasant personality enables her to maintain a good rapport with a wide range of children at the grade school," Herbst added.

Dana's math grades may be in the upper 10 percent of her class but she has a well-rounded personality with her real love being basketball or track. She also loves most outdoor sports, in this weather that means ice skating, tobogganing and skiing.

Dana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toby Ward and she has one brother Ryan, who is in fifth grade. The Wards moved to Lake Villa when Dana was in that grade.

Play therapy for children started at Victory Hospital

"Play is not just a way of passing time or keeping young children from bothering adults. It is a vital part of a child's development," says Martha Jo Church, MSN, pediatrics patient care director at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan.

"Hospitalization can cause feelings of stress and isolation from the family which hinder a child's physical recovery," she added.

Victory Memorial Hospital recently implemented a play therapy program designed to support the treatment of a child's injury or illness by promoting a means to release tensions, express fears and frustrations, and confront reality.

Dolores Russel, part-time ward clerk and Play Program Coordinator explained, "Children often use play to express feelings, and understand what is happening to them. The stimulation they get from playing helps them get better. parents can get involved, too."

The program began at Victory on Oct. 5, and is currently evolving as needs arise, said Mrs. Church. She explained that there are three phases to the development of the program. The hospital is in the first part:

gathering toys to meet the ages and interests of children, infants through teens; obtaining proper facilities and storage cabinets; setting up play routines; and building up a staff of trained volunteers.

The second stage envisions individual and group play sessions directed at a certain disease or situation, family involvement, and education.

Mrs. Church emphasized, "Patient and family education through play greatly enhances the child's ability to cope with hospitalization, learn about future events, treatments and conditions while at the same time allowing the child to gradually externalize fears of painful or frightening events."

The third phase of Victory's play therapy program will involve play to assess a young patient's development and progress. According to Dolores Russel, play therapy provides a means of assessment and evaluation in a setting more natural for the child.

Besides working toward a bachelor's degree in social science, Mrs. Russell will attend an eight-session seminar on play therapy to be taught at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago this winter. When complete, Victory's program will involve the use of toys, are mediums, music, puppets, dolls, and the hospital's current pre-surgical "Operation Owl" tours to help children cope with feelings of fear, boredom, loneliness and parental absence.

"We are often short-handed here in pediatrics," explained Mrs. Russell. "It is frequently frustrating to sit behind the desk and not be able to respond to the obvious needs. The new program is a chance for less medically oriented members of the staff, like me, to have a meaningful part in the child's recovery."

Any person interested in donating toys and games in good condition, or interested in becoming a volunteer, should contact Martha Jo Church, Victory Pediatrics PCD, or Dolores Russell, Victory play program coordinator, at (312) 688-3130.

Primary absentee ballots now available

Grace Mary Stern, county clerk, has announced that applications for absentee ballots for the March 16 primary election are now available in her office and in every library township and city village hall in Lake County.

"We recognize that people need to make their plans ahead. And those who are going to be out of town on March 16 (going somewhere warm, I certainly hope), will want to apply for the ballot soon," Stern said.

Because of the delay in settling the re-districting lawsuits at the state and Congressional levels, ballots will not be immediately available, said Stern. "In fact the federal court changed the date on which they must be available to March 1 so that county clerks all over the state would be able to comply," she said.

"We anticipate having ballots in the mail to those who have applied well before that," she went on. "And those who wish to vote in-person absentee, either here or at the local library, at the township and city village halls, should be able to do so some time around the 22nd of February. Call before you go, however, as this is the time of year when Murphy's Law comes into play—"anything that can go wrong, will," she added.

In addition, Stern pointed out that those who are confined to their home with a permanent disability can apply for and receive a Permanently Disabled Voter card which permits that individual to receive an absentee application for every election, automatically, for a period of five years without the need for a physician's signature at each election. Any registered voter who wishes to find out more about the Permanently Disabled Voter card may do so by telephoning the election department at (312) 689-5912.

Thank You

MANY THANKS to the Antioch Water Department, especially Paul Sural and Mark Harasti, for quickly responding to my call for help. Because of their quick action a potentially dangerous accident was avoided. We hear too much about people not caring about getting a job done, well, they do care. Thank You both.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Bill Message, of Victoria Street,
Antioch.

TO SLEEP IS HUMAN. TO SLEEP DURING THE DAY IS DIVINE.

If you were in our shoes, you'd think so too.

Because the way things are now, when nearly everybody's up during the day, it's not so divine. The cost of producing electricity goes up.

You see, the eight million people we serve use an enormous amount of electricity before they go to bed. And our main generating stations, the ones that run on coal and uranium, have an impossible time handling the demand. It takes our oil burners to pull us through.

But oil is far more expensive than coal and uranium. So during the day, electricity costs far more to make: Up to four and a half times more than at night.

Of course, if half of us would volunteer to start sleeping during the day, it would hold down the demand. Which would also hold down the amount of oil we have to burn, the number of new generating stations we have to build, and the size of the electric bills you have to pay every month.

Since that's asking an awful lot, though, you'll be relieved to know there are other ways to get the job done. Nothing earthshaking. Just conserving a little more in the daytime.

Like not using your air conditioner so much on those scorching summer days. Or not running the dishwasher till 9 or 10 p.m. Or the clothes dryer. Or other easy things like that.

When enough people go along, they really can make a difference.

All we have to do is do it together. That's the key. To keeping costs down. To getting some control over tomorrow.

If we only wake up.

Don't take tomorrow for granted.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,

OPTOMETRIST

SOFT CONTACTS AND HEAVY SPORTS

It was the final set of the tennis match. Sally was hot, nervous and tired. Her glasses kept fogging and slipping down. How she envied her opponent who did not have to contend with this problem. What Sally did not know was that her opponent WAS wearing glasses. Not the visible spectacles — rather, soft contact lenses.

No matter what your sport, good vision is essential. And since many individuals have less than perfect vision, some form of corrective lenses are called for. Eyeglasses are a common solution — but not for everyone.

If this is your case, consider soft contact lenses. They're soft and pliable which means they won't pop out — even during the most rugged activities. They're comfortable right from the start. Every day more and more athletic eyeglass wearers are enjoying the new freedom and confidence that comes from converting to soft contact lenses. Whatever your sport, soft contact lenses will help you see better, play better and look better.
